Our commitment to fostering academic excellence, along with nurturing the values of empathy, collaboration, and global citizenship, finds its perfect embodiment in this unique forum.

"We cannot always build the future for our youth, but we can build our youth for the future." This guiding principle has been at the heart of our educational philosophy. At GBN School, we endeavor to prepare our students not only for the rigors of academia but also for the complexities and challenges of the broader world. We strive to ignite a passion for learning and a dedication to service within each young mind.

In this dynamic era, our youth seek more than conventional knowledge; they aspire to be agents of change, equipped with critical thinking, creativity, and a profound understanding of global issues. It is in this spirit that the Model United Nations emerges as an unparalleled platform. Here, students step into the roles of delegates, representing diverse nations, and engage in the art of negotiation, diplomacy, and decision-making. WHAT IS MODEL UNITED NATIONS

Model United Nations conference or a MUN is a simulation of the United Nations Organization (UNO). Delegates participate with allotted portfolios, presenting their stance and engaging in discussion, debate and active diplomacy based on the Agendas and work toward presenting solutions on real world issues that require immediate action.

Through MUN conferences, students develop confidence, public speaking skills, are able to learn effective communication skills, critical analysis and thinking and adopt logical perspectives to view a particular issue!

Participants work together to find solutions, as the time for action is NOW!

In case of Indian, the delegate represents Indian authorities and politicians and actively engage in political discussions and discourse. In International Committees the delegates put forth their positions based on the interest of the nation allotted to them.
